

Robert Lochhead

“Everyone has a financial or life goal they would like to achieve and my job is to help realise that goal. I do this through understanding your current financial situation and providing you with advice to help you get there.”

Hi, I'm Robert. I've been with Westpac as an Investment Adviser since 2008 and have over 24 years working in various other roles within the banking and finance industry.

I have a Masters in Business Administration and am currently completing a Graduate Diploma in Business Studies at Massey University.

In my spare time, I like to keep active and have completed a number of full and half marathons. I also like to go mountain biking and camping with my family, which is a fun way to experience NZ.

I'd like to meet with you, to give me a chance to listen to what you want out of your investments and allow me to put together a plan that can make that happen.
