What are the risks of investing?

Risk indicator for the Income Strategies Trust.²

The risk indicator is rated from 1 (low) to 7 (high). The rating reflects how much the value of the fund's assets goes up and down. A higher risk generally means higher potential returns over time, but more ups and downs along the way.

To help you clarify your own attitude to risk, you can seek financial advice or work out your risk profile at sorted.org.nz/tools/investor-kickstarter

Note that even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment, and there are other risks that are not captured by this rating.

This risk indicator is not a guarantee of a fund's future performance. The risk indicator is based on the returns data for the five years to 30 September 2017. While risk indicators are usually relatively stable, they do shift from time to time. The risk indicator will continue to be updated in future fund updates.

See the product disclosure statement (PDS) for more information about the risks associated with investing in this fund.

Notes

1. The fund is offered under the Westpac Active Series as the Westpac Active Income Strategies Trust (Income Strategies Trust).
2. The risk category for the fund is calculated based on the volatility of past returns over five years and this does not represent a full investment cycle. The output may be different if calculated using a longer timeframe. We believe an average investment cycle is generally considered to be a period of between 7 to 10 years. If the period of returns data that a risk indicator is based on was one of unusually low or unusually high volatility the risk category presented in a PDS (or any fund update) may not reflect the fund's future volatility.
3. As at 14 August 2012, certain of the Income Strategies Trust's assets were invested in the Corporate Bond Fund. On 14 August 2012 BT Funds Management (NZ) Limited (BTNZ), in its own capacity, purchased certain notes from the Corporate Bond Fund at their book value. The purchase followed a decline in the notes' asset backing which contributed to uncertainty as to the notes' value. BTNZ concluded that the notes were no longer a suitable investment for the Corporate Bond Fund and that they should be sold. On 27 February 2013, the notes were given a zero value in BTNZ's financial statements to 30 September 2012. This determination indicates that the transaction may have had a positive effect on the Corporate Bond Fund's performance, and therefore the Income Strategies Trust's performance in periods which include August 2012. If the notes had been retained and a zero value was attributed to them on 14 August 2012, the Income Strategies Trust's returns (after deductions for charges but before tax) in August 2012 would have been 1.29% lower (returns after deductions for charges and tax at the highest prescribed investor rate would have been 0.9% lower). The Income Strategies Trust's stated returns for periods which include August 2012 would also be affected.
4. For further information on each of the asset classes refer to the PDS and the SIPO.
5. The top 10 investments have been calculated excluding cash and cash equivalents held for operational and hedging purposes.
